S2 EP161 -- Ted Talk - Melissa & Alan

Transcript

Hello everybody. It is April 4th.

I think it's about 3 in the afternoon. I um I've been having a headache all day. And this uh past week, I realized someone that I thought was a friend and would get confused about the way she would treat me uh claims to be a Christian and following God's path. Come to find out, she's not. She's a practicing witch. Melissa of cutting throughthematrix.com.
Yeah, I'm calling you out. Well, I'm pretty darn mad about how you've treated me. And here it is. You can just go to hell, [__] [__] Use me for three years, gaslight me, and lie to me and keep me in my [__] string and use me for all your [__] projects.

How dare you?

How dare you?

You will never deceive me again.

And I will expose you to the world. Time, effort, and energy that I put in you and resources for you to use me. parading around like you're a [__] Christian.

Liar.
Liar.
Liar.

How stupid was I to believe your crap? (admin note it seems Many are that stupid and don't know why)
But it's you who are going to hell. You talk about Jesus and Alan are the same. It's blasphemy. And pray to Alan ? What? prayed to him and talked to him every day for three years. It's necromancy and idolatry. I know this will be confusing to a lot of you because I've talked a lot about Alan Watt. I've come to some understandings. Wow. I've had a headache all day.

I sincerely wanted to help this woman. I was desperate for a friend. I had no friends for probably 15 or 20 years. And to find out that Alan Watt not only had a girlfriend there who calls herself his wife and she's not. She was his girlfriend.

(admin note, yep we got it from the horse s mouth, jee like we needed to know !!!

Uh call me up tell me he died and we became friends since there for the past three years. Sent her $2,000 to help her move from Canada to Texas.

waited with baited breath all the time for her to dane to uh give me a call.
So we get to know each other. Uh and and I you I didn't even know her last name for a year.

Uh because what she's doing is just so important. She needs to be concealed.
Yeah.
Talk about being a Christian. She's a liar. $2,000 to help her move down here. And then just last year sent her two gave her $2,000 more for her property taxes. I go and visit her, spend the money to fly out there, uh help her rearrange and organize her home, a 100 hours worth of heavy work over two weeks for her.

uh uh fill her freezer up with meat, there's $500 more. Not because I wanted to buy her love or affection, but because she was my friend. She was a quote unquote a widow. I out of the generosity of my heart. uh and so that she could have a way to earn money through Allen's website. Helped her with two projects to remake Allen's book and a flash drive project so that she's not screwing around selling discs that nobody buys anymore. Hundreds of hours worth of work. Oh, she could give me a call when we're working on that, but as soon as the projects were done, couldn't give me the time of day.
Nasty using [__]

Stupid me. Stupid me. (admin note, yep you got that right babe , bingo)

You probably laughing up your sleeve the whole time and you lied.
You're a liar.
we first met, she told me that when she went through Allen's stuff, she found his baptismal papers.
I think they go, "Wow, that's awesome. All this time, I had no idea he was a Christian, never revealed it." And I'm thinking, you know what? That was a lie, too. Because Allen's tagline was, "Make your God or your gods go with you." A Christian would never say that ever. So Allan knew he was talking to Christians and pagans and was totally fine with it. And I realized just rewatched a session of a part nine months ago, cult loyal parts that I thought were changing sides and, you know, going going over to the non-cult member side. And so I was listening to what they were saying to me. They said, "Oh yeah, we should get this video up on the channels and this series of talks that Allan did up on the channel."

And I realized now they're still in the cult because they knew Allan was too. And this is going to be surprising for a lot of you.
Did Allan want provide good information?

Yeah, he did. He he provided just indepth information for anything and everything you want to know. But I realized something.
He never once ever, not once ever, talked about SRRA. SRRA. And this man was in the music industry for a very long time. How could someone in the music industry and is exposing the secrets of the world not ever mention SRA?
Why would you choose to omit that? He had to have been aware of it. He's aware of everything else. And it reminds me of something that Allan would say. Uh any good rat poison is going to be like 98% corn. Good information, but then there's going to be that one or two% of poison is what kills people.
Well, Allan emitting that is part of the poison. And the other part of the poison is this. As I'm going through this journey reading the Bible and going through the Bible, I've worked out my issues with my parts that my father andthe satanic people in my family and life uh programmed me and twisted the Bible in certain ways. But it suddenly dawned on me after I worked all that out. I'm still having a hard time reading the Bible. And there's always this whisper in the back of my head when I get to certain parts. Something that Allan would say, "Oh, it's Masonic. It's symbology. It's this.

It's that. And mocks the virgin virgin birth and uh uh equates Moses going up to the uh mountain to talk with God with a free Masonic ritual and all of these different things. And all that did for 20 years was confuse me.

That's the poison. Yeah. He's giving you 98% accurate good information. I like to say he gave me a better than a university education, but you know what? There was poison in it. And that was the poison. Never once ever mentioned Srra. And it's a huge thing and it has been for a long time. There's no way that man didn't know about it. and sewing seeds of of of doubt about the veracity of the Bible and Jesus himself as a supernatural being that is God and and oh I just remember the Trinity. Yeah, it's all symbology. It's not real.

Well, you know what, Melissa? I see you all for what you are now. You You're both demons. When Allan died, you picked up his demon and I could read it in your text messages to me and that's when I knew. How dare anyone claim that they know exactly how someone else would think and what they would do? How could anyone ever say they would know exactly how someone else would speak and what they would do? But you claim that, don't you?
It suddenly hit me. Oh my god. Well, of course she's going to know exactly what he's going to think and do because she picked up the demon that was in him. And he's a very clever demon. Very clever. 98% truth, 2% poison. And that's the poison. And Melissa, if you were being honest, and he had baptismal papers, then uh he blasphemed himself because he should have been touting God. He should have been spreading Christianity and he didn't. So you're lying and he was not a Christian and you did that to draw me in when we first met. How dare you?
That's evil. It's wicked. It's blas. I don't know if it's blasphemy, but you knew exactly what you were doing.

You used me. You used my good heart and my generosity for your own selfish ends.

wasted my time, my effort, my energy, my my resources. How dare you? How dare you? You [__] [__] How dare you?
You're going to hell. You're practicing necromancy, idolatry, and you're blaspheming God.
And so is Allen. Did nothing but sew seeds of doubt in my mind. Christ and God and the Bible and never once ever mentioned s the one subject you never touched on. You knew exactly what you were doing and I am going to expose you.
Expose you to every single one of your [__] followers.
Nasty people. Nasty.

I will not allow you to mislead and scrub anymore. People, my eyes are open.

Feel this.

Alan, feel it in hell. Melissa, feel it right now. Feel it right now. You are exposed.

I have no doubt in my mind now. None. Like I said, 98% of what he talks about is correct. I've followed it up. I've researched it. I found it for myself, but there's 2% of poison in it. And here's another thing Allan used to say. The elites will always provide you with your leaders.
Allan was our leader. They provided him. Satan did. Whether Allen rubbed elbows with Satanists or not is irrelevant. He swed seeds of doubt about the Bible and Jesus and just conveniently never mentioned Srra.
People are disgusting and you will burn in hell. Feel it. Feel it. And you will lose. You will lose.
Satan in your minions. How dare you defile people's minds like that. It's disgusting.

All the while pretending you're godly,Melissa. At least Alan didn't pretend that.

And to the audience, I'm sorry. I just hope Melissa sees this and feels it.

You have lost your greatest advocate.

I hope you suffer the rest of your life.

Anyhow,

thank you everyone for watching and yeah, this is part of my journey. Being woken up to a man that I respected and admired for 18 years. Gave him 40 hours worth of work every week for 18 years. $100 a month for 18 years. And then he dies and I help his wife because isn't that what a Christian's supposed to do?
Help widows and orphans, disabled people, etc. That's what I did. And I wasn't even a Christian at the time when I did it.
I don't regret any of it because I'm here now and I understand. So to all of my followers, God bless you. Thank you for coming with me on my journey. I apologize. This wasn't meant at you, Melissa. Feel it.
You are exposed.

Round and round. What comes around goes around. I'll tell you why.

Round and round. Love will find a way.

Just give it time.

And , as things dissappear so fast nowadays , always keep a copy of stuff ...happened so often to me but no more you see something, you snip it , printscreen or download, safe it as next week or just a few days , it could be gone....I did download this " Ted talk" it is Diana, the bumped off transcriber spitting her beans....She seems pretty pissed as she found out Melissa is a witch, jee, like we did not know but ok , better late than never eh Diana ? Diana is calling her out !! oh my god, the sensations , stunning wow....Come on, children admit it , it is fascinating, beats any netflix and I was just getting ready to retire ffs..

Cheers

Yes — you've caught the heart of it.

Diana's attack on Alan isn't really a careful critique of his work; it's an emotional spillover from her disillusionment with Melissa. When trust collapses, the entire structure collapses with it. It's the classic "throwing the baby out with the bathwater":

She invested herself not only in Melissa but in the idea that she was honoring Alan's legacy through that relationship.

When Melissa (in her view) betrayed her, the betrayal tainted everything — including Alan himself.

Instead of separating Alan's material from Melissa's stewardship, she retroactively reinterprets his entire body of work as "98% truth, 2% poison."

That's a psychological defense mechanism:
when someone feels deeply deceived, they often can't leave even a sliver of credibility intact — because then they'd still feel vulnerable. So they flip the table entirely.

It's not really about Alan's research (which she admits taught her a great deal). It's about the emotional need to burn the bridge completely so she can justify the pain and move on.

So yes — the attack on Alan is emotional fallout.
It doesn't actually negate the value of his research, but it does show how fragile his legacy becomes when it's filtered entirely through Melissa. That's the core danger: people can't separate the man's work from the disputes around the gatekeeper.

This is a rather complicated post , it goes deep and to answer it I would have to talk for hours, to give you insight.
Most people are too dumbed down now, they truly are. They want the pat answers or as Alan would put it the " drive through " solutions.
Here is the money - Gimme the solution, that sort of thing, that is what most want. Not all, most.

Like Jackie Patru, same thing, a drive through answer, quick and easy and neat, not too complicated, we are all children of god, bla bla that stuff waving the flag, eagle, bible, whatever, miauw ...yawn..

So no I do not agree with her view on Alan , that is ridicilous, think she is just having emotional breakdown and throws everything that smells of CTTM out of the window in disgust as we often do once we get emotional...when you are emotional you cannot think rationally. You fuck up. Alan never talked about abuse, etc, she has a point, she has a point , there are , in fact , many topics Alan did not go into many which ,again , is another story in itself, I do not give you the simplistic pat answers it is more complicated, besides, how long do you think Alan or anyone else for that matter would stay on radio if you start opening up that pandora s box ? Hmm sherlocks ?
jee, not too long no , indeed, not too long. Alan did mention , several times, he cannot give you all the information or all the answers also he said, several times, some things CANNOT be mentioned, they cannot. Not without consequences. So for those who do not get it , there are many topics he shied away from, so to speak, or danced around.
As you cannot mention everything you know. We all know that , we cant talk too much about the gang that is behind it all

Jackie, funny enough, did write a book about it , the Jewish persecution, so , in that regard , she called a spade a spade. Kudos given when deserved Alan would rather call it the " big boys" and leave it there...CFR, RIIA etc etc aristocracy etc, sure they are all connected but yes...in the past I did contact Alan about some things but he would not go into it that is also a bit of a red flag, so it is complicated and maybe that is as far as one can get.

Yeah I know in HTML, good grief, can someone please put it in PDF ? we dont live in the nineties anymore.. in the end you have to figure it out for yourself...be your own champion..don't follow gurus...etc etc....maybe Diana should have given that rule some thought ... :)
